Friday 13th May 2022

This week has absolutely flown by in school and before we know it, it's Friday again already! I have had the pleasure of popping in to most classrooms at some point this week and have enjoyed seeing small snippets of the learning happening—from fab Phonics sessions, to enquiry-based Science lessons, I've seen great engagement with learning throughout! I have also loved popping my head in to Year 5 and hearing about their business ideas to “make their £5 grow”! Lord Sugar eat your heart out! Thank you for your continued support—have a lovely weekend. Mrs Lennon ☺

Well done Year 6!

I couldn't end this week without saying an enormous “well done” to our fabulous Year 6 children who have all worked so incredibly hard during SATs week. They have all shown incredibly positive attitudes to learning and have been completely dedicated to doing their absolute best. I have been so proud to see their mature and sensible approach to the week and, despite it obviously being a stressful week for them, they have kept smiles on their faces throughout! Whatever the outcome Year 6, we couldn't be prouder of you!
